

Sinclair Media should be held accountable for airing biased and inaccurate political propaganda in an attempt to throw the elections one week before they are held. Sinclair is clearly politically motivated, and this negates the whole concept of public airways that should help us look clearly and objectively at all issues so we can make informed decisions. The basis for our democracy is an informed public, and public airways must not be used by the corporations who control them to promote a political agenda..